Minister for Equality Meets with Unite Equalities Committee

The Minister for Equality, together with her team at the Ministry of Equality, met with representatives of Unite Equalities Committee on 10th March 2017. All parties agreed on the importance of achieving the objectives of equality and inclusion. Awareness campaigns and training programmes were also discussed.

The Minister for Equality, the Hon. Samantha Sacramento MP, said: “It is always very positive to establish working collaborative partnerships. The Ministry of Equality and Unite Equalities Committee are both firmly committed to equality for all and we now look forward to our next meeting to discuss our shared objectives”.

Adrian Dignam Mills, Chairman of the Unite Equalities Committee, said: “I welcome the Minister’s comments and her proactive approach and initiative to work together. We look forward to establishing a firm working relationship and start discussing issues of equality affecting our community.”
