Fire Safety Personnel attend Fire Investigation Course in UK

Two members of the Fire Safety Department Sub/O Golding and L/FF McComb have successfully completed a Practical Development Refresher course on Fire and Arson Investigation.

The intensive 3 day program was conducted by Gardiner Associates Training & Research in Cambridge.

The program is designed for experienced fire practitioners and includes interactive theory sessions workshop and practical exercises, focusing on the SFJA Level 5 Certificate in Fire Investigation. The program also includes methodical examination of fire compartments and vehicles and sessions dealing with forensic challenges, fatal fires, information gathering, documentation and photography.

During the 3 day course the participants received expert knowledge and once again managed to exercise their awareness through real time training. This course will prepare Sub/O Golding and L/FF McComb with the necessary skills, knowledge and understanding required as a Fire Investigator in order to meet the department expectations.
