GIBRALTAR PORT AUTHORITY ATTENDS IQPC LNG BUNKERING SUMMIT IN AMSTERDAM

The Gibraltar Port Authority (GPA) recently attended the IQPC LNG bunkering summit in Amsterdam which also included a technical focus day. Now in its 6th year, the Annual LNG Bunkering Summit united global players from leading ports, LNG terminal operators, ship operators, ship owners, LNG suppliers, and LNG technology providers to develop strategic partnerships and common strategy to drive the LNG Bunkering market forward.

The summit provided an opportunity to hear perspectives from the entire supply chain, offering their insights into their decision making, planning, development, operation, safety and training processes that have allowed them to successfully move forward in the LNG Bunkering market. John Ghio, Deputy Captain of the Port (Acting) and Bunkering Superintendent Daniel Perera attended the summit on behalf of the GPA.

Manuel Tirado, CEO and Captain of the Port (Acting) commented that it was important for the GPA to attend high profile events such as this as it brought together the major players, top bunkering ports and decision makers from around the world and provided an excellent stage for Gibraltar to promote its involvement in LNG bunkering services.
